Principal's News

As the term draws to a close and we all start to prepare for winter holidays, we still have several events being held in the last week. PBS reward disco is being held on the last day of school, NAIDOC activities will occur tomorrow afternoon and the Dockers Football Shield carnival will be held on Thursday.

Last Monday and Tuesday I had the pleasure of showing Miss Emma Grant around the school, introducing her to the staff and students. She was also privileged to have seen the Year 6 Assembly, watch many students achieve Merit Certificates and also listen to staff share about their Professional Learning Community learnings from this term. I thank the staff for the kind words they shared about me at the assembly, it bought a tear to my eyes. I know that in preparing the handover for Emma it certainly made me aware of how much has changed over the 9 years I have been the Principal at Braeside.

0-4 year old Open Day

Last week, we held our second 0-4 year old Open Day. We welcomed many youngsters to the school, from babies to our current 4 year old's. They had an exciting day both indoors and outdoors, with the weather staying fine. Everyone took home a gift bag with a whiteboard marker and some pre-writing activities and a book. There was even a special treat for parents with a Braeside cup, coffee, tea and of course chocolate.

Genius Time sharing

Yesterday we held our first Genius Time sharing for 2022. There were exploding volcanoes, water cycle dioramas and Chatterpictures narrated by the Pre-Primaries. The most incredible part of the sharing process is the pure joy students get in sharing their learning with their siblings. The knowledge that they have developed along the way to get to their final creation, demonstrates their deep earning of the topics that they have studied. Their confidence to share with staff before the event displays their confidence and their passion with their achievements. Thanks Mrs King for all the work you do in this very important area within our school curriculum.

Students thoughts on Genius Time Sharing:

Pre-primary: Cool and Fun.

Year 1: Fun, Exciting to Learn.

Year 2: Everyone's idea was very good. Fun to show parents.

Year 3: Amazing, Fun, Exciting, Spectacular, Astonishing, Wonderful.

Year 4: Isaiah: I liked to see how other students made their Genius Time items, like volcanoes.

Year 5: Hugh: I liked learning facts about planets and the sharing group work.

Year 6: Sophie: I thought it was really good, I like the topics and Room 4's information about saving water.

Maths Fluency Flyers

Last week we had triple the number of students attend the Maths Fluency Flyers reward day. Students who had progressed the required number of levels on the Fluency challenge they engage in daily were eligible to attend the reward session. I am pleased to say that we needed to run 3 separate sessions to cater for all students. It was pleasing to see so many Year 1 and 2 students this term achieving their reward. Staff developed case management groups, to offer targeted support and strategies to assist specific students who were having difficulty passing levels. From the names of students who attended, it appears this case management planning was effective in boosting maths fluency.

Helping your child build healthy relationships

Parents play an important role in assisting children and young people to build self-respect. This leads to the development of the values and skills needed to express respect to others. There may be some variation in what represents respectful behaviours across different cultures. However, in any cultural context, respect is about behaviours that convey valuing and caring about another person.

Helping your child develop the following skills will help them to form healthy, respectful relationships with peers and adults.

- Understanding and empathy: Encourage your child to think about how another person may feel about something.
- Empathic listening: Teach them to listen and show they understand another person's point of view
- Anger Management: In times of conflict, encourage them to think first before speaking, stay calm and avoid hurtful reactions.
- Conflict resolution: Disagreements are normal in any relationship. It's helpful to teach your child that to work through a problem by understanding another person's point of view. To achieve a compromise or agreement is better than winning an argument that leaves the other person feeling bullied, hurt or embarrassed.
- Problem-solving and decision making skills: Rather than you offering solutions for your child's problems, hold back and support your child to generate a few possible solutions themselves. Encourage them to think about the impact of each option on themselves and others before deciding on their action.
- Honesty: In a relationship where there is trust and acceptance there should be no reason to lie and honesty should be encouraged.

Assertiveness: Help your child to learn how to stand up for themselves or to speak up about their values or needs in a way that is non-confrontational and still respects others.

P & C NEWS

The Braeside School P&C, amongst other things, arranges fundraising to support our kids in our school to have all those "little extras" that make school special.

This year, we need to fundraise a little over $15,000. This includes our regular commitments like supporting the Year 6 camp, Musica Viva, prizes for our end of year concert and sports days, and PBS rewards. Plus this year, we have two major goals:

- ◆ Purchase of a dishwasher for the school canteen area, and a full school set of reusable plates, cups, bowls and cutlery, so we can prepare for the WA Single Use Plastics ban and be more environmentally friendly.
- ◆ Contribute towards the cost of a major over-haul of the Pre-Primary playground area, including earth-works, drainage and new equipment.

Coming up, we have a Picture Plates fundraiser, where children can design their own melamine dinner plates (with a 40 year warranty!) – more information will be coming home later this term - and we're also aiming to have a couple of pizza / cheesie days at school in the cold weather. We're going to need some parent helpers for those!

Our next P&C meeting will be 25th July, but of course we love to have parents and carers involved throughout the term as well. Please don't hesitate to get in touch, or put your hand up!

BOOKFAIR

Book Fair Thankyou!

Book fair was busy! Thanks to everyone who supported our library and bought merchandise. We sold $2758 worth of books and made $817 of commission. Students were able to add to a list of books they would like to purchase for the library and am happy to say everything they asked for - and more - was purchased and is shown in the picture above. Thanks Braeside Community!
